“ We need a system where our voices can be heard. I think that can greatly help improve the way the community works. ”

Message from Mayor and Council

This strategic plan belongs to everyone in our community. Through our consultations, you told us what is important to you, where we need to focus our efforts and how we can do better. You shared your pride for Parry Sound and why you love living here. You have also shared your ideas to improve our quality of life and economic prosperity.

At the centre of what we heard is partnering. We heard time and again that Parry Sound is stronger when we work together with our municipal neighbours and senior levels of government, because what is good for the region is good for the Town. Collaboration with others is woven through each of the three priority areas in this strategic plan and it includes West Parry Sound municipalities, other levels of government, First Nations communities, the business community and more.

This strategic plan draws on our strengths and all that makes Parry Sound unique. It sets out opportunities for growth and environmental stewardship and resiliency, while at the same time, balancing our fiscal realities. We promise to report back on our progress, share our successes and let you know when we face challenges.

Thank you to everyone who participated. We hope you will continue to be engaged as we roll out this plan. Together we will build a stronger future for Parry Sound.

Jamie McGarvey
Mayor

Community Input

This plan represents the voices of over 300 residents, youth and members of the business, non-profit, healthcare and social services communities, in addition to input from Council and the Town's leadership. The community's feedback is represented in each priority and the objectives. Their words are also found throughout this Strategic Plan.

“ I think we should encourage the developers to build a mix of housing. Healthy communities integrate affordable housing with other types of housing. ”

“ The Town should partner with current, established local businesses on what to provide to new and emerging businesses. ”

Economic Growth

Plan for future capacity

- Continue focus on replacing or updating old or failing infrastructure as a matter of priority, planning ahead for future capacity and ensuring climate change resiliency
- Lobby the federal government to expedite the replacement of the Wasauksing First Nation swing bridge

Support housing options across the spectrum

- Support more housing options for new and existing employees as part of business attraction and retention
- Assess current policies to assist in providing greater flexibility for the development of creative housing solutions
- Work with local partners to increase attainable housing options

“ A pool would bring employment, education, improved senior living, encouragement for young families to move here, draw in people from outlying communities who then shop and eat to build the economy. ”

“ Have more events throughout the year to not only attract out of town people but for locals as well. ”
